ABOUT:

Founded in 2013, CIMA, the Center for Italian Modern Art is dedicated to presenting modern and contemporary Italian art to international audiences; fostering new scholarship in the field; and offering an intimate, close-looking, "slow-art" model for enjoying great works of art. Through critically acclaimed exhibitions—many of them bringing work to U.S. audiences for the first time—along with a wide variety of public programs and an international fellowship program, CIMA situates Italian modern art in an expansive historic and cultural context, illuminating its continuing relevance to contemporary culture and serving as an incubator of ideas for larger cultural institutions. For its eighth season, CIMA will present a focused exhibition of paintings created by Mario Schifano between 1960 and 1965."
